Tailored mezzanine floor design built around your business

Our mezzanine floors are expertly engineered to meet the unique needs of your operation, ensuring maximum space efficiency and performance.

With fully customisable column grid layouts, available in almost any size, we design each structure to optimise workflow, storage capacity, and productivity. The only limitation is the load bearing capacity of your existing concrete slab, ensuring every project is safe, compliant, and structurally sound.

Building regulations made simple

Our mezzanine floors are fully compliant with all current building regulations, ensuring your project meets the highest safety and legal standards.

We manage the entire approval process on your behalf, working with your local authority, approved inspectors, and fire officers, so you can enjoy a smooth, stress free installation from start to finish. Our experienced in house design team manages every detail for you.

Fire protection you can rely on

Our mezzanine floors are designed with safety in mind. By adding high-quality cladding to the steelwork, we provide robust fire protection, delivering up to two hours of resistance for complete peace of mind and compliance with safety standards.

Expert project management

Our experienced project management team ensures your project runs smoothly from start to finish. Whether it is a simple four-column mezzanine floor or a large-scale turnkey solution involving multiple trades, we manage every detail with precision. We also provide full CDM guidance, giving you confidence in compliance and safety throughout the process.

Committed to health & safety

Safety is our top priority. Before installation begins, we provide comprehensive method statements and risk assessments, ensuring every project meets the highest standards of compliance and care. With MPC Systems, you can trust that your team and workspace are in safe hands.
